

A Dollar's Worth For a Dollar.

It doesn't take a bad shoe long to expose its true character, a little wear and tear makes the revelation. We do not claim to sell a high grade shoe for a low grade price, but what we do claim is, that for no shoe which leaves our store do we make a charge which is not fully justified by its actual value.

A DOLLAR'S WORTH FOR A DOLLAR is what we sell, and this is what you will get if you try a pair of our Shoes.

TWO MILLION GONE

Another Startling Discovery in Bardsley's Stealings.

THE SCHOOL FUND TAKEN

It Was Paid to Him by Pennsylvania's State Treasurer.

Testimony Brought Out Against United States Officials—Assistant Bank Examiner Jones' Statement Creates a Sensation—H. H. Yard Arrested at Trenton for Complicity in the Bank Swindle.

PHILADELPHIA, June 13.—There was some very startling evidence produced before the Bardsley investigating committee during the day, and prominent United States officials' names were brought into the case in a manner entirely unexpected to the majority of the committee.

Assistant Bank Examiner Jones, who is very close to Bank Examiner Drew, and gave the committee information regarding Comptroller of Currency Lacey's knowledge of the affairs of the Keystone National Bank that has hitherto been kept carefully guarded. It was that on the 18th day of last February Comptroller Lacey was in this city and personally visited the Keystone Bank building and saw the books and gave a full and complete account of the same at that time by Bank Examiner Drew.

Another Sensation.
Another sensation was the statement made by General Louis Wagner, the ex-Director of Public Works. This statement connected the name of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Nettleton with the attempt to make Nelson F. Evans, director of the Spring Garden National Bank, receiver of the broken Keystone Bank.

Assistant Examiner Jones when called to the stand explained at some length, in answer to questions, the methods of examining national banks and told when and how the Keystone had been examined. The discrepancy in the ledger of the Keystone was first discovered by him on January 8, 1891, but not by any information furnished by Examiner Drew.

Comptroller Lacey Brought In.
After the committee had asked all the questions they wished, Assistant Bank Examiner Jones said: "There is another thing which I wish to state. Upon the 13th day of February, Comptroller Lacey was in this city. There was a reception held at the Hotel Lafayette which he attended. After it was over Bank Examiner Drew brought Comptroller Lacey over to the Keystone Bank and I showed him the books and explained to him the condition of affairs as they then knew them to exist. I explained the padding of the New York Banking Exchange accounts, and informed him of the due bills which had been found. The difference found in the ledger and the stock accounts, for which the Lucas estate was held responsible at that time, was explained to him."

"Comptroller Lacey understood all about the Lucas defalcation, which at that time was understood to be $600,000. Then the assets were considered, and Comptroller Lacey called the Sea Girt and Spring Lake property worth $700,000 instead of $500,000."

This statement of Mr. Jones caused a great sensation, as Comptroller Lacey's visit to the bank had been kept a close secret, and Bank Examiner Drew has never under the severe cross-examination he has been subjected to, allowed himself to give the slightest intimation of it.

Mr. Jones also stated that as an expert he did not believe it was possible to tell by the books of the Keystone Bank how much of the deficit in the Keystone Bank occurred before John C. Lucas' death and how much had occurred since.

SPECULATOR YARD CAUGHT.

He Was Going Under an Assumed Name in Trenton.
TRENTON, N. J., June 13.—H. H. Yard, a speculator, who has been wanted in Philadelphia to explain the relations of City Treasurer Bardsley to the looted Keystone Bank of Philadelphia, was arrested here last night.

He is charged with conspiring to defraud the city of Philadelphia out of $300,000. District Attorney Graham and City Solicitor Warlick came here early to give testimony, but Yard waived a hearing and the bail was fixed at $100,000 pending the arrival of a requisition from the Governor of Pennsylvania. Yard has been released on bail. He formerly resided in this city and has many friends here.

Yard registered at a hotel here under the name of Herbert. This shows that he expected to be arrested and was endeavoring to avoid it.

GOV. PATTISON WINS.

The Supreme Court Decides in Favor of Wright for City Treasurer.
PHILADELPHIA, June 13.—The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has handed down a decision that W. Redwood Wright is the proper appointee to succeed Bardsley as City Treasurer. Richard G. Oellers is ousted from the office.

Oellers was elected by Councils and the County Commissioners, while Wright was Governor Pattison's appointee. The point of the decision is that the office of Treasurer is held to be a county office and the right of appointment is vested in the Governor.

The justices were divided, four to three. Bardsley Stole the School Fund.
PHILADELPHIA, June 13.—Another startling discovery of Bardsley's stealings as city treasurer has been made. The auditing committee appointed by the Mayor found that in addition to his embezzlement of over $1,200,000 of State money he has got away with $445,428 of school-fund paid to him by the State treasurer for the year ending June 30, 1891.

This is a last year's city which is added to the lost money looked up in the two broken banks, will aggregate a total loss to the city of $1,000,000 and to the State of $1,200,000 in all $2,200,000 so far found.

The Prospects Are that '95 Will be the Largest Ever Graduated.

A large number are reported as examined in New York, Philadelphia and other places. Examinations are being held in 44 cities in the United States; also in Germany and England. Although nothing definite can be said of the size of the incoming class, present indications seem to justify the statement that '95 will be the largest class that ever entered Princeton.

The final struggle with Yale for the baseball championship will take place this afternoon on the Manhattan Field, New York.

THE AMERICAN DERBY.

Preparations for the $20,000 Event to Be Run at the Regatta Next Week.

Morris has notified the officials that he will come on from the East with his great colt Strathmore, leaving New York on Monday evening.

John Campbell also will come from the East with his high-class colt Pessara. There is intense interest in the arrival of these Eastern races and the officials are picking of the Western contingent, including the hitherto invincible Kingman. The latter will be the favorite, and West's colt, a colt named Fotomac is not also coming on from the East to join in the great race.

Rumor About the Tilden Will.

NEW YORK, June 13.—A rumor gained currency last night that the Tilden will had been settled out of court. Concerning this rumor, Delos McCurdy, of counsel for the nephews, said that there was no truth in the report. He said the executors could, under the wide powers granted by the will, make a settlement if it were agreeable to the other side, but nothing in that direction has been done.

Leaving the Soldiers' Home.

ELIZ, Pa., June 13.—The pensioners who are inmates of the Soldiers' Home are leaving as fast as their pensions for the last quarter arrive. Sixty-five have already left for their homes in different parts of the State. The Soldiers' Home committee issued an order requiring the inmates to pay 80 per cent of their pensions to the general maintenance fund, which is the cause of the dissatisfaction.

THE MIRACLE CURES

Exciting Scenes Witnessed at Mount Troy To-Day.

OVER 3,000 PILGRIMS PRESENT.

They Moved About on Crutches and in Invalid Chairs.

Strong Men Crushing the Weak in Their Endeavors to Reach the Side of Father Mollinger—People in Rags and in Silk Surround the Church—Patients Who Say They Were Cured.

PITTSBURG, June 13.—The blind, the lame, the halt and the deaf thronged Mount Troy in greater numbers to-day than yesterday.

A conservative estimate of the number of Pilgrims present in the hope of securing help for almost every sort of human ill from Father Mollinger places the figure at 3,000. They journey hither from all parts of the country. Hundreds came from New York State, particularly from the neighborhood of Binghamton, Elmira, Rochester and Buffalo. Hundreds came from the vicinity of Nashville. There are many from Connecticut, Eastern Massachusetts and the vicinity of New Haven.

A wild, surging, tottering mob; a cry of pain coming from a helpless mangled man who could move neither hand nor foot; another strong man, crawling on his hands and knees, endeavoring to reach the side of Father Mollinger, who they expect to cure them—such were the scenes around the Mecca of cripples on Mount Troy to-day.

By 9 o'clock there were fully 3,000 people gathered in the church, in the yard surrounding the building and in the streets. There were people in rags and people in broadcloth and silk. They moved about on crutches and in invalid chairs. Some who have been rendered entirely helpless were carried around in wheelchairs of a loving father, brother or mother.

Cures Claimed.

A reporter spoke to some of the patients who say they have been cured. Among them was Miss Mary Loneragan of Elmira, N. Y. She said she had suffered from asthma 20 years and had visited Father Mollinger and at the end of five days was cured.

Mrs. P. J. Duffy of Olean, N. Y., said she had been completely cured of dropsy, but still has a stage of heart trouble.

Mrs. Holzer of Wayland, N. Y., had a 27-year-old son who had been troubled with St. Vitus' dance for 18 years. He was cured.

Bridget and Nora Beardon, two sisters, from Little Meadow, near Scranton, Pa., were cured of cancer and catarrh on the eye, respectively.

Mrs. Fitzsimmons, of Pittston, Luzerne County, came here with rheumatism that had afflicted her for 10 years. She had to be wheeled in a chair, yet before leaving for home she could walk without difficulty.

THE JOHNSON TRAGEDY.

A Belief that Fletcher Is in the Woods Near Fairhaven.

NEW BEDFORD, June 13.—There are several new developments in the Johnson murder case. At Priest's Cove an ear was found which looks as if it might have belonged to a large boat like the one in which the bloody tragedy occurred.

The theory is that Fletcher, who is missing, may have floated ashore on it. This theory is in a measure verified by the fact that several persons have reported to the police that they have seen a person who answers the description of Fletcher skulking in the woods near Fairhaven. Mrs. Fletcher, however, says she is sure her husband is dead.

Officers of the Yale Football Association.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 13.—The following officers were elected at the meeting of the Yale Football Association last night: President, W. B. A gift of $6,000 was made to the new gymnasium and $4,000 for a new building at the Yale field.

Will Fight the Synod.

PITTSBURG, June 13.—The east end congregation of the Reformed Presbyterian Church last night decided to secede. The congregation reorganized, re-elected Mr. H. C. Foster as pastor and determined to fight the Synod to retain the thirty thousand dollar church which they now possess. They will probably gain the United Presbyterian Church in a body.

Convicted of a Revolting Crime.

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y., June 13.—The jury in the case of William Phelps, charged with incest, brought in a verdict of guilty. The defendant's counsel moved for a new trial on the ground that the code was violated by Judge Metcalf, in allowing the jury to have possession of some damaging papers. The details of the crime were of the most revolting character.
